Supplement to 1932 Descriptive Catalogue

"THE" NEW PINK DAHLIA

RAY WARNER

I. D. Size 9"x4½". Height 5'. Color, the most beautiful, clear, luminous rose pink. In addition to being the most beautiful pink, it is the earliest to bloom, producing perfect flowers from June until killed down by frost in October and as late as November. The flowers are always full to the center. It is a strong, vigorous, quick grower. Will produce more large, long stems, perfectly full blooms than any other Dahlia.

The reproduction from a photograph of the plant adjoining tells the story most effectively. These flowers were all more than 9 inches across, and you will see their marvelous perfection. Their artistic formation, full centers and depth of bloom. You will also see those straight, rugged stems, holding the flowers most regally, facing to upright.

RAY WARNER is the fulfillment of a life-time endeavor to produce a perfect pink Dahlia. In other words, a life's dream come true. Being such a profuse bloomer, it is not a prolific "tuberous root" maker. It is, however, a splendid propagator, rooting quickly, which enables us to offer strong plants at $1.00 each. Roots (stock limited) while they last, $4.00 each.

NEW GIANT RUFFLED DAHLIA

Edith Eastburn Simon

Ruffled. Size 10"x4". Height 5'. Color, an exquisite creamy pink at center, deepening to a beautiful orchid pink on the outer petals, blending lighter toward the tips. The plant is dwarf branching grower, sending the flower up on long stems. The foot stalk is often 18 inches. It is an early, free and continuous bloomer, and the flowers are always full to the center, even late in the season when so many varieties show open centers.

In Dahlias, as in horses, breeding will tell. Ray Warner and Edith Eastburn Simon are both thoroughbred. They show their class by always being perfect. They bloom under conditions where others fail. They do not stunt, and are resistant to disease and insects. Give them good cultivation, disbud them and you can depend on always having perfect blooms. Price, Edith Eastburn Simon, roots $4.00 each, plants $2.00 each.
